

Interlüde

The best stories hide in the in-between.

There's a whole world between here
and where you're going.
And some of it is waiting for you.

01 · THE INVITATION

· ON THE WAY

We are always on our way to something.

02

For the curious. The spontaneous. The careful planners. The solo wanderers. The people who love meeting people, and those who simply want to see what's around the next corner.

We believe the world should feel a little more open, a little more welcoming, and a lot more worth discovering.
That's why we're here.

To help you understand where your journey allows you to go. To discover what fits the time you have.

To find fellow travellers when you feel like sharing the adventure. And to help you plan your return when it's time to continue on.

No pressure to do everything.
No single right way to explore.

Just possibilities you might not have known were there, and the confidence to choose what feels right for you.

Because the journey doesn't begin when you reach your destination.

What if the journey had another story for you?

DEPARTURE

Oh, the places you could go. The people you could meet.

ZRH

Zurich

Imagine arriving in Zürich just as the first snow begins to fall.

The streets are glowing. Music drifts through a Christmas market. You're sharing roasted chestnuts and laughing with someone you met only an hour ago.

Yesterday, you didn't know this person existed. Today, you're making a memory together.

> Some adventures take us somewhere new. Others bring someone new into our lives.
>
> Some are shared. Some belong entirely to us.
>
> And sometimes, the smallest unexpected moment becomes the story we tell for years.

Lisbon

Or perhaps it's Lisbon.

You follow the smell of freshly baked pastries down a narrow street, discover a tiny café, and lose yourself in the beautiful business of being somewhere new.

Just you, your curiosity, and a city you never expected to visit.

Perhaps your adventure never leaves the airport. A conversation begins over coffee.

Someone tells you about their hometown. You exchange stories, recommendations, maybe even numbers.

And somewhere along the way, a stranger becomes a familiar face.

Whatever your adventure looks like, there's room for you here...

THE INTERLÜDE MANIFESTO

04 · THE EMBRACE

04

For the curious. The spontaneous. The careful planners. The solo wanderers. The people who love meeting people, and those who simply want to see what's around the next corner.

We believe the world should feel a little more open, a little more welcoming, and a lot more worth discovering. That's why we're here.

To help you understand where your journey allows you to go. To discover what fits the time you have.

To find fellow travellers when you feel like sharing the adventure. And to help you plan your return when it's time to continue on.

No pressure to do everything. No single right way to explore.

Just possibilities you might not have known were there, and the confidence to choose what feels right for you.

Because the journey doesn't begin when you reach your destination.

IN-BETWEEN — ARRIVAL

Tomorrow holds possibility. Today holds a story.